

Join Ontario Association of Social Workers and King's University College School of Social Work on:
Thursday March 6th from 6-8 pm at the Central Library Stevenson & Hunt Room

Canada's Prostitution Laws Ruled Unconstitutional by Supreme Court: Implications for Social Service Provision in the Forest City Moving Forward

Speakers/ Panel Members:

Kathryn Eggert, BASc

Executive Director of Daya Counselling (Moderator)

Naomi Sayers, Student at Western

Activist and Indigenous Feminist

Dr. Treena Orchard

Medical Anthropologist / Researcher

Louise Pitre, MHA

Executive Director of Family Service Thames Valley

Barbara MacQuarrie, HBA

Community Director of the Centre for Research & Education on Violence against Women & Children at Western University

What To Expect?

Recently, the Supreme Court struck down Canada's prostitution laws as unconstitutional and granted Parliament one year in which to develop a new legal regime to govern the sex trade. The Supreme Court's decision made it quite clear that the current approach is not protecting extremely vulnerable women and sex workers within our community. This moderated panel presentation will highlight the importance in our profession of understanding current social issues and social policies that impact the lives of our clients, and the broader community, each day. Light refreshments provided.

Visit us online: www.kings.uwo.ca/swweek

