A Place to Be. A Place to Become.

The Program

- Innovative program offers core courses in Social Justice and Peace
- Preparation for social political leadership oriented towards sustainable change
- Community placements and internships
- Research to inform policy and law

Many students combine their SJPS degree with other disciplines.

Beyond the Classroom

Community based learning

- Build meaningful connections in the community
- Deepen their understanding of local issues
- Engage in a placement to contribute meaningfully to a local organization

Global and Local Experiential Learning

- Allows students to examine the complex social, political and economic relationships that link justice, peace, conflict and reconciliation
- Arezzo, Italy; Peace and Conflict Resolution
- Dominican Republic; Eco-Justice
- Borderlands, US-Mexico; Migration and Security

Activism and Social Change

Engaged learning means that students take their classroom learning out into the world. Informed activism frames our approach to social change.

What graduates loved about King's

"I am eternally grateful to this extraordinary program and the incredible professors I had along the way."
