About the university	The history of the Catholic University of Korea began with the establishment of St. Joseph's Seminary in 1855. Since then CUK has played a major role in providing an education based on respect for humanity. The Catholic University of Korea celebrated a new beginning in 1995 when it merged with the Catholic University Medical School, Catholic University Seminary and Songsim Women's University. With its long-term plan called 'Vision 2015,' the Catholic University of Korea strives to embody its educational ideal: "Truth, Love, and Service" in the spirit of Catholicism
