Social Housing Calls for Social Supports: A Way Forward for Londoners

Issue and Local Context:

- Identifying the current housing crisis that exists within the City of London

Advocacy Tool Idea:

- Aims to put an end to this crisis, and implement the effective social supports needed to obtain and keep housing

- The City of London should follow in the footsteps of the Street Level Women at Risk program by:

- Implementing effective long term social services, to assist in the transition from homelessness into social housing

Failures in Current Efforts and Policies:

- This will will enhance the current and ineffective program of, the Housing Stability Action program

- This current policy plan falls short of crucial social components needed, and is perpetuating a broken cycle and lack of housing

Implementation & Moving Forward

- This advocacy tool will effectively put an end to the London housing crisis, as well as issues of homelessness and poverty in London, making this a better city for all.
