WHAT CAN YOU DO WITH A SPT DEGREE?

SPT prepares students to undertake a variety of studies and occupations, especially when it is done in conjunction with another discipline. Our students have gone on to:

- Grad School: University of Toronto, McGill University, Cambridge University, University of Louvain, New School for Social Research, Queens University

Employment
- Criminal, Property, Corporate, Copyright, and International Lawyers
- Policy Planning, Federal Government and Government of Ontario
- International Finance, Bank of Montreal
- Teaching, high school and university
- Corporate Leadership, TD Bank
- Urban Planner, City of New York
- Patient Advocate
- Business Owner, Hamilton, London, and Toronto
- Strategy and Planning, IBM Canada

Internships
- Our students have interned in various government, cultural and community agencies including the Ministry of Education, the Government of Ontario, and the Government of Canada.

Wellness
- The SPT program recognizes the importance of the mind-body-spirit connection. It aims to help students find their place in the world, whether they are looking to work in healthcare, social services, or a variety of other fields. The program's focus on critical and creative capacities enables students to build a strong sense of self-respect and for others, and to develop the health and power of the mind.

 unconstrained possibilities

universityaffairs.ca

philosophy@kings.uwo.ca

kings.uwo.ca/spt

A PLACE TO BE, A PLACE TO BECOME

SPT programs students to undertake a variety of studies and occupations, especially when it is done in conjunction with another discipline. Our students have gone on to:

- Grad School: University of Toronto, McGill University, Cambridge University, University of Louvain, New School for Social Research, Queens University

Employment
- Criminal, Property, Corporate, Copyright, and International Lawyers
- Policy Planning, Federal Government and Government of Ontario
- International Finance, Bank of Montreal
- Teaching, high school and university
- Corporate Leadership, TD Bank
- Urban Planner, City of New York
- Patient Advocate
- Business Owner, Hamilton, London, and Toronto
- Strategy and Planning, IBM Canada

Internships
- Our students have interned in various government, cultural and community agencies including the Ministry of Education, the Government of Ontario, and the Government of Canada.

Wellness
- The SPT program recognizes the importance of the mind-body-spirit connection. It aims to help students find their place in the world, whether they are looking to work in healthcare, social services, or a variety of other fields. The program's focus on critical and creative capacities enables students to build a strong sense of self-respect and for others, and to develop the health and power of the mind.

universityaffairs.ca

philosophy@kings.uwo.ca

kings.uwo.ca/spt

A PLACE TO BE, A PLACE TO BECOME

SPT prepares students to undertake a variety of studies and occupations, especially when it is done in conjunction with another discipline. Our students have gone on to:

- Grad School: University of Toronto, McGill University, Cambridge University, University of Louvain, New School for Social Research, Queens University

Employment
- Criminal, Property, Corporate, Copyright, and International Lawyers
- Policy Planning, Federal Government and Government of Ontario
- International Finance, Bank of Montreal
- Teaching, high school and university
- Corporate Leadership, TD Bank
- Urban Planner, City of New York
- Patient Advocate
- Business Owner, Hamilton, London, and Toronto
- Strategy and Planning, IBM Canada

Internships
- Our students have interned in various government, cultural and community agencies including the Ministry of Education, the Government of Ontario, and the Government of Canada.

Wellness
- The SPT program recognizes the importance of the mind-body-spirit connection. It aims to help students find their place in the world, whether they are looking to work in healthcare, social services, or a variety of other fields. The program's focus on critical and creative capacities enables students to build a strong sense of self-respect and for others, and to develop the health and power of the mind.

universityaffairs.ca

philosophy@kings.uwo.ca

kings.uwo.ca/spt

A PLACE TO BE, A PLACE TO BECOME

SPT prepares students to undertake a variety of studies and occupations, especially when it is done in conjunction with another discipline. Our students have gone on to:

- Grad School: University of Toronto, McGill University, Cambridge University, University of Louvain, New School for Social Research, Queens University

Employment
- Criminal, Property, Corporate, Copyright, and International Lawyers
- Policy Planning, Federal Government and Government of Ontario
- International Finance, Bank of Montreal
- Teaching, high school and university
- Corporate Leadership, TD Bank
- Urban Planner, City of New York
- Patient Advocate
- Business Owner, Hamilton, London, and Toronto
- Strategy and Planning, IBM Canada

Internships
- Our students have interned in various government, cultural and community agencies including the Ministry of Education, the Government of Ontario, and the Government of Canada.

Wellness
- The SPT program recognizes the importance of the mind-body-spirit connection. It aims to help students find their place in the world, whether they are looking to work in healthcare, social services, or a variety of other fields. The program's focus on critical and creative capacities enables students to build a strong sense of self-respect and for others, and to develop the health and power of the mind.

universityaffairs.ca

philosophy@kings.uwo.ca

kings.uwo.ca/spt

A PLACE TO BE, A PLACE TO BECOME

SPT prepares students to undertake a variety of studies and occupations, especially when it is done in conjunction with another discipline. Our students have gone on to:

- Grad School: University of Toronto, McGill University, Cambridge University, University of Louvain, New School for Social Research, Queens University

Employment
- Criminal, Property, Corporate, Copyright, and International Lawyers
- Policy Planning, Federal Government and Government of Ontario
- International Finance, Bank of Montreal
- Teaching, high school and university
- Corporate Leadership, TD Bank
- Urban Planner, City of New York
- Patient Advocate
- Business Owner, Hamilton, London, and Toronto
- Strategy and Planning, IBM Canada

Internships
- Our students have interned in various government, cultural and community agencies including the Ministry of Education, the Government of Ontario, and the Government of Canada.

Wellness
- The SPT program recognizes the importance of the mind-body-spirit connection. It aims to help students find their place in the world, whether they are looking to work in healthcare, social services, or a variety of other fields. The program's focus on critical and creative capacities enables students to build a strong sense of self-respect and for others, and to develop the health and power of the mind.

universityaffairs.ca

philosophy@kings.uwo.ca

kings.uwo.ca/spt
Seek to develop a critical and creative capacity of mind to respond to real social issues.

Meet with alumni for informational interviews.

Meet regularly with the Academic Dean’s Office to ensure you are on track towards your degree requirements.

Explore a variety of Philosophy courses covering topics of Great Human Questions, Finding Happiness, Business Ethics in a Global Context, and more.

Connect with faculty and academic counsellors about your academic goals and interests.

Take one of six scholarships or grants to fund your academic journey.

Learn to deal with unanswerable questions, ambiguity and perplexity.

Look at the library resources offered by the Cardinal Carter Library.

Meet with faculty to talk about your personal philosophy that does not necessarily fit into the

Join the King’s Philosophy Students Association to broaden your own

Attend Graduate School Education Sessions.

Take advanced courses in Social and Political Thought.

Get involved in Cassirer studies.

Dr. Calcagno is one of Canada’s foremost philosophers. He is currently working on the relationship between Early German phenomenology and contemporary philosophy.

Dr. Calcagno’s areas of research include: theories of culture and identity, recent European philosophy, and social and political thought. He is a member of the Royal Society of Canada, College of New Scholars, Artists and Scientists. As a well-respected and accomplished scholar, Dr. Calcagno is the recipient of the King’s University College Award for Excellence in Teaching.

Dr. Lofts is a fellow of Germany’s prestigious Alexander von Humboldt Foundation and an accomplished scholar with an international reputation in Cassirer studies.

Dr. Lofts’ areas of research include: recent European philosophy, Renaissance philos-