

King's Open House for future students this weekend

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – May 1, 2014

London, ON- King's will open its campus to future students, their families and friends on Saturday May 3rd, 1p.m. – 3:30 p.m. for our annual May Welcome Day. The event will be centered in the new Darryl J. King Student Life Centre, which opened in January 2014. Tours of campus and residence will be available and King's faculty and staff will be on hand to answer questions about academic programs and support services.

"At King's we offer small, interactive classes and combine that with a big sense of community. Here, our students truly get connected and make a difference. And, they get the best of both worlds: a close knit educational experience at King's which is tied to the big school atmosphere of Western," says Marilyn Mason, Registrar.

King's highly rated faculty are accessible to students inside and outside the classroom. Our students enjoy a wide range of undergraduate programs in the liberal arts, business and social work. We also offer a Master of Social Work. King's is renowned for teaching excellence and is highly regarded for its scholastic endeavours and experiential learning opportunities in the fields of Business, Thanatology, Social Justice & Peace Studies, Disability Studies and more.

Visitors can tour the campus, meet faculty members and staff, view displays and videos and meet current students.
