Room Assignments

King’s offers both single (limited number) and double rooms. Room assignments are based on the preferences and lifestyle information you provide on your residence application. You can request a specific roommate, too. We know the idea of living with a new roommate may make some students a little nervous. Residence staff are here to support you in that relationship. We facilitate a roommate agreement process shortly after move-in to help you and your roommate discuss some key aspects of shared living. While the majority of residents enjoy a good living arrangement with their roommate, sometimes problems arise. Residence staff are here to help.

Many King’s students choose to move off-campus and share living space with other students after first year. Developing skills to live successfully with others is a good investment in your future. Living in a supportive residence environment with a roommate is a good way to build those skills.

Residence Life

A great way to begin your King's experience.

Research shows that living in residence has a positive influence on first-year students. Each year, King’s Residence get top marks from students in satisfaction surveys. Thanks, in part, to the dedication and enthusiasm of the King’s residence staff. We strive to make your home away from home as enjoyable as possible.

Residence Assistants
The Residence Assistant in each residence unit is a vital resource in helping you make a successful transition to university life. RAs offer support and guidance, share information about campus resources, and monitor residence standards and guidelines.

Preparing for residence life is important for students and their families. Consider the following as you work together to get ready for this life transition:
- What are your academic expectations? Are there learning skills areas that you may need to improve to be successful?
- Is there a need for skill development in some areas (cooking, basic cooking, time management, etc.)?
- What transitional issues might you or family members face? How will this transition be managed or supported?
- Is everyone clear about the financial aspects of this transition? Are all students aware of the financial assistance programs (OSAP, bursaries, scholarships, work study programs, and external sources for emergency funds, and in debt/funding implications)?
- Are the necessary home insurance and health coverage updates in place? Residents are advised to insure their personal property. King’s does not provide this insurance.

Student Resources

Kings offers a range of services to address students’ academic, personal and spiritual needs.

- International Student Services
- King’s Academic Mentoring Program (KAMP)
- Learning Skills Instruction
- Library Instruction Sessions
- Online Learning Hub
- Personal Counselling
- STARs Learning Labs

The transition to university is an exciting time filled with new opportunities. Sometimes challenges arise and students may need help in meeting these challenges. RAs and the Residence Office staff are the first people to see if a residence difficulty comes up. Seeking help promptly is key to quick resolution!
