Your home at KING’S

Residence is a great way to meet people and feel connected.

Research shows that living in residence has a positive influence on first-year students. Each year, King’s residences get top marks from students in satisfaction surveys. Thanks, in part, to the dedication and enthusiasm of the King’s residence staff. We strive to make your home away from home as enjoyable as possible.

Residence Assistants

The Residence Assistant in each residence unit is a vital resource in helping you make a successful transition to university life. RAs offer support and guidance, share information about campus resources, and monitor residence standards and guidelines.

Preparing for residence life is important for students and their families. Consider the following as you work together to get ready for this life transition.

• What are your academic expectations? Are there learning skills areas that you may need to improve to be successful?
• What is needed for the first-year student’s “home”? (Budget, basic cooking, time management, etc.)
• What transition needs might your family members have? How will these needs be minimized or supported?
• Is everyone aware of the personal aspects of this transition? How should we begin to communicate about campus resources, academic, financial and other important issues?
• Are the necessary home insurance and health coverage updates in place? Residents are advised to insure their personal property. King’s does not provide this individual coverage.
