Criminology
The study of crime in social context

WHAT IS CRIMINOLOGY?
Criminology is the study of crime in a social context. As a social science, we explore crime and criminalization in relation to individuals, the policies, corrections, the judiciary, the state, and social responses. Our program aims to show and explore criminalization in both historical and current social contexts, while also challenging social inequalities and social exclusions that remain in the 21st century.

LEARN MORE
kings.uwo.ca/sociology
kings@uwo.ca
KingsAtWestern
A Place to Be. A Place to Become.
LEARNING OUTCOMES

The Criminology program is aimed at engaging students and others in thinking about crime, offending, and victimization from different perspectives. Students who complete a Criminology degree will be well prepared to take on challenging tasks and provide evidence-based solutions to social problems of the 21st century. With the knowledge and skills gained in the program, students will be particularly valuable in careers in government, law and law enforcement, education, health, social work, the non-profit sector, and business.

SKILLS AND COMPETENCIES

- Critical thinking and analytical skills
- Communication and presentation skills
-较强的 research and writing skills
- Effective interpersonal and teamwork skills
- Understanding of complex social issues
- Ability to work on teams

LEARN MORE ABOUT THE CRIMINOLOGY PROGRAM
kings.uwo.ca/sociology